Stand parties after the end of the fair (especially with music) require the Organiser's written approval.

2 House rules / Event rooms, grounds

2.1 The exhibition grounds are private property. Messezentrum Salzburg GmbH (MZS), Am Messezentrum 1, A-5020 Salzburg exercises domiciliary rights. The relevant house rules apply to all persons entering, driving on or staying on trade fair grounds.

The Organiser may provide his services through authorised service providers.

3.2 Orders require acceptance. Acceptance is done by sending the order confirmation before the exhibition event. Orders can also be placed on-site at short notice, including implicitly, through the performance of the service ordered.

3.3 Unless expressly stated otherwise, all prices quoted in these Exhibitor Service Forms are net prices, to which the relevant statutory VAT must be added.

3.4 The partner companies authorised by the Organiser (via trendfairs) must be commissioned for technical equipment and its installation. This includes:

3.6 The Exhibitor shall be entitled to cancel the order for the services offered if the cancellation declaration is received by trendfairs GmbH before the expiry of the cancellation deadline in accordance with the General Conditions of Participation. If the cancellation request is received by the Organiser after the cancellation deadline, this will not lead to cancellation of the order. In this case, the Organiser shall be entitled to execute the order or not, irrespective of whether he has already started providing services on the stand area. If he executes the order, the Exhibitor shall pay the charges incurred for the order. If he does not execute the order and has not yet started to provide the service on the stand area, he may demand a lump-sum reimbursement of expenses from the Exhibitor amounting to 10 % of the fees incurred for the order. If he does not carry out the order and has already started to provide services on the stand area, he may demand a flat-rate reimbursement of expenses from the exhibitor amounting to 25 % of the fees incurred for the order. The right of the Organiser to request further reimbursement for expenses remains unaffected. The Exhibitor may demand a reduction of the flat-rate reimbursement of expenses if he can prove that the Organiser has only incurred lower expenses.

4. Stand construction regulations / construction heights / stand canopies

4.1 Stability: Exhibition stands including equipment and exhibits as well as advertising media shall be erected in such a stable manner that public safety and order, in particular life and health, are not endangered. The Exhibitor is responsible for the static safety of the stands and may be required to provide evidence of this. The Organiser reserves the right to inspect stand structures, exhibits, advertising media, etc. in respect to their stability and traffic safety at the Exhibitor's expense or to have them inspected by experts if there are reasonable doubts about the stability and traffic safety, even if approval has previously been granted

4.2. The maximum stand construction height is 3.50 m. Deviating stand heights require the approval of the Exhibition Management. For approval, dimensioned floor plans, elevations and sectional drawings must be submitted to the organiser in good time.

4.3 The exhibitor undertakes to install a stand partition wall at least 2.50 m high on all closed sides of the stand area. 4.7 The rental space shall be measured on the hall floor and marked at the corners by the Organiser or his commissioned partners. After stand allocation, each Exhibitor is obliged to inform himself about the location and dimensions of any fixtures, in particular fire alarms, the course of supply ducts, ventilation systems, etc. and, if necessary, to inform the stand constructor. The boundaries of the rental area must be observed at all times. The stand markings (stickers) are to be built over; the dimension is the outer edge of the marking on the aisle side.

4.8 All stands shall be marked by the Organiser with stand numbers, which may not be removed without the prior consent of the Organiser.

5. Assembly and dismantling work / operating obligation

6.2 Hydrants on the exhibition grounds and their markings may not be obstructed, built over, blocked, covered or otherwise rendered unrecognisable.

It must be easy to fully open doors along escape routes from the inside. These exit doors and emergency exits and the identification of them must not be obstructed, built over, blocked, covered or otherwise made unrecognisable. If escape and rescue routes are located within a stand, these areas designated as escape and rescue routes and their markings may not be obstructed, built over, blocked, covered or otherwise made unrecognisable.

6.5 The fire behaviour of building materials and construction materials must be at least flame-retardant (B1). The B1 certificate must be taken along and presented on request. Decorations must at least be flame retardant. They must only drip off in a non-burning manner.

If his liability presupposes blame, he must prove that there was no culpability on his behalf. The rental period starts with the delivery at the stand and ends with the return or collection by the subcontractor appointed by the Organiser, even if the Exhibitor has already left the stand beforehand. It is recommended to insure the rental items against theft for the duration of the rental period. The Exhibitor will be charged for any non-returned items at the replacement value. In the event of any damages, the repair costs will also be charged unless replacement is necessary. The delivery costs to and from the stand for rental items are included in the rental price, unless otherwise stipulated in the relevant terms and conditions pertaining to the order form.

The food and drinks are intended exclusively for the exhibitor's own consumption, not for catering at the stand (large quantities may not be taken away!). The caterer must be commissioned separately by the exhibitor for his own drinks and food at the stand.

9.3 In the case of commercial production or marketing of foodstuffs, the Exhibitor must observe the Infection Protection Act. It is the responsibility of the Exhibitor to look up and observe all relevant regulations, including those of local safety authorities.

10.2 As far as possible, materials and products should be used on the exhibition grounds that are characterised by durability, ease of repair and reusability or recyclability, result in less waste or waste that is easier to dispose of compared to other materials and products, or are made from residual materials or waste.

10.3 Disposable tableware should not be used for hospitality. Drinks should be procured in reusable containers as far as possible. If disposable tableware is nevertheless used in individual cases, only materials that decompose in a ground-water-neutral manner or can be incinerated in waste-to-energy plants without leaving any environmentally harmful residues may be used.

11. Claims / Limitation period / defects

11.1 All of the exhibitor's claims arising from the contractual legal relationship become time-barred within six months. If the exhibitor's facilities, systems or exhibition goods are exposed to particular dangers or risks (e.g. damage due to the influences of temperature, humidity, vibration, pressure drop, power fluctuations and the like), the exhibitor must take the necessary protective measures himself. In the order form/application, the exhibitor must point out any particular dangers that his systems, facilities or exhibition goods could pose to third parties or to the property of third parties.

12. Health and safety

All assembly and dismantling work must be carried out in compliance with the applicable occupational health and safety regulations and accident prevention regulations, in particular DGUV-V1 and DGUV-V 17. The exhibitors and the companies commissioned by them are themselves responsible for observing the accident prevention regulations and occupational safety regulations.
